PRELIMINARY DESCRIPTION

Miscellaneous papers dealing with Thomas Gilbert, of the Gilbert Printing Company of Columbus, Georgia. Most interesting are bills from hotels in England, Scotland and France in 1855; a letter from an English friend (of a later generation) in 1926, telling a bit about World War I; and an interesting letter from a friend in Holland, 1932. There are some samples of printing, and two invitations from organizations at the University of Georgia; one from the Chi Phi Fraternity, 1884, the other from the Demosthenian Literary Society, 1888. The latter two items have been filed in the University Program file under the appropriate year.

Gordon family.
John Brown Gordon family papers, [ca. 1841-1979].
12 linear ft.

Arranged by record type.

John Brown Gordon (1832-1904), Georgia Governor and U.S. Senator, Confederate General, longtime commander of the United Confederate Veterans, married Fanny Rebecca Haralson, daughter of Senator Hugh A. Haralson.

The collection consists of papers of John Brown Gordon and the Gordon family from ca. 1841-1979. Papers relating to John Brown Gordon include correspondence, writings, photographs, and scrapbooks. The correspondence (1861-1930) consists of letters written to his wife, Fanny Haralson Gordon, mainly while Gordon was serving in the Confederate Army in the states of Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland; letters (1864-1870) from Robert E. Lee; and correspondence to and from his family while he was serving as a United States Senator in Washington. Other Gordon family members represented in the papers include Hugh Haralson Gordon, Caroline Lewis Gordon, and Lewis Gordon.

The collection contains an interesting set of letters (1941-1948) to and from Rev. John Dawson Gordon, whose parents were slaves/servants of the Gordon family from 1854 until they moved to California in the 1890s.

The collection also contains papers relating to the Haralson family, consisting mainly of correspondence (1841-1851) between Hugh A. Haralson, while serving in the U.S. Congress, and his wife, Caroline Lewis Haralson, and their daughters Elizabeth, Fanny, and Caroline. Mrs. Haralson's letters to her husband provide an in-depth look at her management of their plantation in LaGrange, Troup County, Georgia, while her husband was away from home. The collection also contains genealogical materials relating to the Gordon, Haralson, Hodgson, Howard, and Lewis families.

Gordon, Ernest Leo.
Ernest Leo Gordon papers, 1943-1945.
65 items.

Arranged in chronological order.

Ernest Leo Gordon, World War II soldier with the 3rd, then 9th United States armies, from Hull, Georgia.

The collection consists of letters from Ernest Leo Gordon to his mother, Mrs. E.L. Gordon of Hull, Georgia from 1943-1945. The letters describe Gordon's basic training at Fort McPherson, Georgia; Camp Bowie, Texas; and his radio training at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. In 1945, Gordon wrote from England, France, Belgium, Germany, and Czechoslovakia mainly about family, friends, and items he requests. After the censorship ban was lifted, Gordon's letters mention the battles he participated in (the Normandy invasion, the capture of Orleans, and the Rhine River) and his duties during the post war months.

Ms 1667

Gordon, George Augustus, 1827-1912.
George Augustus Gordon family papers, 1676-1912.
80 items.

Arranged in alphabetical order by subject.

George Augustus Gordon (1827-1912), Assistant Quartermaster General of Georgia during the Civil War, first as a Lt., then later (1865) as Captain, resident of New Hampshire.

The collection consists of papers of George Augustus Gordon and the Gordon family from 1676-1912. Materials from the early years relate to Gordon's ancestors in Maine and New Hampshire and mainly contain receipts, tax records, and genealogical records. Materials concerning the Civil War consist of passes, orders, commissions, and a few letters relating to Gordon's duties as Assistant Quartermaster General of Georgia.

Ms 1270

Gordon, John Brown, 1832-1904.
Letters to Henry F. Emery, 1901-1903.
7 items.

Arranged in chronological order.

John Brown Gordon (1832-1904), Confederate General, Georgia Governor (1886-1890), and U.S. Senator (1873-1880, 1891-1897), born in Upson County, Georgia.

The collection primarily consists of correspondence from John Brown Gordon to Henry F. Emery of Atlanta, Georgia from 1901-1903. The letters discuss Atlanta taxes, land in Georgia, Florida land speculation, and business interests. The collection also contains one letter from Emery to Gordon discussing taxes Gordon owed on property in Georgia.

DESCRIPTION:

Letter to Miss Sarah Frierson ("Miss Puss") Librarian of the University of Georgia, thanking her for her support during the campaign for U. S. Senator and her congratulatory letter. Typed letter, signed. Covering note from Dr. Coulter.
This three-page note dated 17 August 1916 to a literary friend of Gosse's is important because of the bibliographic information which it contains. Gosse's correspondent had left with him some books to be autographed, among them the Madrigals by Gosse and J.A. Blaikie published in 1870. Gosse elaborates, "That you should have got the "Madrigals" of 1870 amused me, for it is a very rare book indeed. Fewer than 12 copies were sold of it, and I very seldom hear of its turning up." This particular copy of Madrigals is now in Special Collections in the Gosse Author Collection.
Goudy, Frederic William, 1865 - 1947
"The Goudy Memorial" 1955
1 item

Frederic William Goudy (1865-1947) was a type designer and author. He started the Village Press near Chicago, later moved to Massachusetts, and finally to Marlboro, New York. In 1923 he purchased Deepdene, a pre-Revolutionary mill in Marlboro, where he set up his press. In 1939 fire destroyed the Village Press for the second time and Goudy, at age 74, did not try to re-establish it. He continued designing and also lectured at Syracuse University. Deepdene was also a wildlife sanctuary, and in 1948 the Goudy Wildlife Club was formed in Newburgh, New York.

"The Goudy Memorial" is a book of mementos containing correspondence, photographs, writings, clippings, and printed material pertaining to the life of Goudy and the art of typeface design. There is also material about a memorial to Goudy and his wife Bertha which was placed in Old Towne Cemetery (Newburgh, NY) in 1954 by the Goudy Wildlife Club and other contributors. The book was arranged by Richard N. McArthur of Higgins-McArthur Company in Atlanta. He was responsible for collecting contributions from the Atlanta Printing Craftsmen for the memorial.

DESCRIPTION

Seven letters are from Dr. Goulding to his brother-in-law, the Reverend William Moultrie Reid, chiefly family news. One letter is to Dr. Goulding from his brother E.R. Goulding.

Dr. Goulding, Presbyterian divine, was also the author of a number of books for children, most popular of which is perhaps "Young Marooners." Letter dated December 12, 1846 gives names and birth dates of his children.
Ms 2807

Goulding, Francis Robert, 1810-1881.

1 linear foot.

The collection consists of correspondence, patent petitions, manuscripts of writings, notes, and other papers of Goulding; family correspondence (1861-1918); correspondence (1931-1968) with the Georgia State Library, where Goulding's papers were previously housed, and others concerning the collection; and ms. by Ben Ali, an Arabic slave from Sapelo Island, Ga., and correspondence, articles, and other papers (ca. 1930-1986) relating to the ms.

Additional F. R. Goulding Papers are located at Special Collections Department, Robert W. Woodruff Library, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322.

University of Georgia Libraries, Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library (Athens).

Other authors: Ben Ali, fl. 1812-1860.
Rev. Francis R. Goulding Collection
MS 2807

Scope and Content Note

Francis attended the University of Georgia and graduated in 1830. In 1833 he graduated from the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S.C. and also married Mary Wallace Howard. They had 6 children, two of whom have correspondence in this collection.

Goulding was Presbyterian minister in Bath, Ga. and while there he perfected his invention of the sewing machine which he never patented, allowing later credit to go to Elias Howe.

This collection includes the Ben Ali Section which centers around an Arabic manuscript given to Rev. Goulding by a slave from Sapelo Island. The manuscript and related materials are placed along with correspondence of researchers and library officials.

Extract from Atlanta Journal magazine, 3 July 1932, concerning the Goulding family's gifts to the State Library; the artifacts listed are also included in this collection:

The tools with which his grandfather is said to have made the first sewing machine have been loaned to the state library by Frank Goulding, of Atlanta, for exhibit with the memorial collection. These tools, a rather crude brace bit and spoke shaver, were given Mr. Goulding by his uncle, the captain (Benjamin L. Goulding). Mr. Goulding has also lent a walking stick, made of teakwood from the Himalayan Mountains and which must have belonged to Thomas Goulding...for on its silver head is engraved, 'Dr. Goulding, May, 1785.'

This is not a manuscript collection per se, but it does pull together some of the material written about Madame Gouvain and provides a place for her little paint cups, which came to us from the estate of the late Miss Jennie Smith. Most of the material is of a biographical nature, with some genealogical information included.

Description:

An 18th century French book with a short description of the governors of the House of Neufchâtel since the Comte Louis. Also included are the coats of arms of each governor.
DESCRIPTION: An illuminated 16th century parchment Spanish manuscript of the Gradual of the Roman Catholic liturgy. The manuscript is richly illuminated throughout the text with particular emphasis on the first capital letter which is executed in gold and pastel colors. Many of the remaining capital letters of the manuscript are of a red and blue Moorish design while the verse letters are black with yellow trim. A portion of the Kyriale and Sanctorale sections are palimpsest, that is erased and reused, with some of the old notation still visible. The manuscript is bound in tooled leather fastened to wooden boards with ornamental brass plates and knobs on back and front covers.

Note: Due to the condition of this item, it is not to be shown without written or verbal permission of the Assistant Director for Special Collections or the manuscripts librarian.

PRELIMINARY DESCRIPTION

1 volume containing a few newspaper obituaries of Henry Grady and Jefferson Davis, 1889.

SUBSEQUENT HISTORY
Receipted bill signed by W. S. Grady, father of Henry W. Grady. Bill was to Howell Cobb for "piping your house in 1860" and "8 brackets and putting them up." Note on bottom of bill from Grady to John A. Cobb, (son of Howell Cobb) re: check he, Grady, had received in payment of above account.

Note: Grady was part-owner of the (Grady & Nicholson) Gas Works on Thomas Street, and the above bill was presumably about pipes and brackets for gas light in the Cobb house.

Green, Charles, 1807-1881.
Charles Green papers, 1850-1880, 1903.
53 items.

Arranged in chronological order.

Charles Green (1807-1881) born in Liverpool, England, immigrated to Savannah, Georgia during the 1820's and participated in the cotton shipping and commission business. Returning from a visit to Europe in 1861, Green was arrested as a Confederate agent and imprisoned at Fort Warren in Boston, Massachusetts. Upon his release from prison, Green returned to Savannah.

The collection consists of papers of Charles Green from 1850-1881, 1903. Included within the collection is correspondence from Green during his imprisonment at Fort Warren (Boston, Mass.); a hand painted memorium document in honor of Green's death (1881); Green's will; a furniture inventory of Green's Savannah home; news clippings pertaining to Green's imprisonment and death; a manuscript describing General William T. Sherman's occupation of Green's Savannah home; and a War Dept. document explaining Green's 1861 arrest (1901).

Greene, Earl R.
1.5 linear ft.

The collection consists of papers of Earl R. Greene from 1935-1969 dealing with his lifelong interest in birdwatching. Includes mainly diaries and notebooks he kept while on trips (many with Audubon societies) which detail the places visited and the birds sighted at each location, printed material, and Greene's life list of birds.

Ms 2620 (M) includes one letter signed "W.P. Greene esquire" of Schley County, GA in which Greene complains to his cousin that one of his favorite teachers at Chapel Academy is being libeled as an abolitionist by a former teacher who was fired for incompetence. Apparently, the teacher in question was rumored to have commented that Negroes "had as much right to fly round the white ladies as white boys..." According to Greene, however, all the controversy stemmed from the teacher's comment that Fremont would have made a better president than Buchanan.

DESCRIPTION:

Handwritten manuscript of miscellaneous items copied from the Georgia Home Journal, Greensboro, Ga. for 1886. Most are social notes, some are poems, some are notices of meetings. The items were copied by Mrs. Leroy Hart (née Margaret Adams of Union Point). Mrs. Hart was the mother of Mrs. Gash, and a resident of Athens. Mrs. Hart was for many years secretary of the Ladies Garden Club, America’s first Garden Club.
This brief biography was written by Greenwood in reply to a questionnaire from Charles Lanman for information for his Dictionary of the United States Congress. Although he represented Arkansas in Congress, Greenwood was a native of Franklin County, Georgia, and attended the University of Georgia.

ALS from Amédée Gréhan

TO: M. de Royer, First President of the Court & Vice-President of the Senate

Re: Gréhan's book, Le Royaume de Siam, calling Monsieur de Royer's attention to the third edition which has just been published.
DESCRIPTION

John Jones Gresham was born 21 January 1812 in Burke County, Georgia, and died 16 October 1891 in Baltimore, Maryland. After graduation from the University of Georgia in 1833, Gresham studied law under William T. Gould of Augusta, Georgia. He was admitted to the bar at Waynesboro in the November term 1834. In February 1836 he moved to Macon where he practiced law as well as serving two terms as mayor in 1843 and 1847. Later he was appointed Judge of the Inferior Court. After the war Gresham served in the State Senate.

Gresham was a member of the board of trustees of the University of Georgia and a member of the board of directors of the Theological Seminary at Columbia, South Carolina.

Gresham married on 25 May 1843 Mary E. Baxter, daughter of Thomas W. Baxter of Athens, Georgia.

This collection contains two books of Gresham's writings. The smaller includes his valedictory speech as well as his other speeches delivered at his graduation from the University of Georgia on 27 July 1833. The larger volume dated January 6, 1831, is entitled "Select and original pieces". This contains an assortment of speeches and writings including those of the smaller volume. Reversing the book, Gresham began using it for problems as well as a calendar of comings and goings. Then, in 1835, he used the book for his finances.

Grizzard, Lewis McDonald Jr., 1946-1994
Lewis Grizzard Papers, 1966-1994
9 linear ft.

Arranged by record type

Lewis McDonald Grizzard, Jr.(1946-1994), author, humorist, syndicated columnist and stand-up comedian, grew up in Moreland, Georgia (Coweta County). He was sports editor of the Athens Daily News while he was a student at the University of Georgia, executive sports editor of the Atlanta Journal, and briefly sports editor of the Chicago Sun Times. In 1977 he came back to Georgia and began writing for the Atlanta Constitution. He was the author of numerous books, many of them based on material from his newspaper columns. Because of a congenital heart defect, he had three open-heart surgeries, and also wrote about these in his columns and books.

The collection consists mainly of typed manuscripts for Grizzard’s books and newspaper columns. There is also some correspondence, printed material, and information concerning his performances on stage and on television.

DESCRIPTION Native Chicagoan, John Groth, became the first Art Director for Esquire magazine in 1933. Over the years he has become one of the most accomplished and best known American illustrators. He was commissioned by the Heritage Press to illustrate a new edition of Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind. Prints of these drawings are included in this collection. In addition, there is an original sketch of horse and rider dated "Athens 2/20/73." Three prints of eskimos, two exhibition brochures, and two photographs of Groth on his visit to the University of Georgia are also present.

Gurr family.
Gurr family papers, 1864-1921.
13 items.

Arranged in chronological order.

Thomas Jefferson Gurr (1838-1884) of Fort Valley County, Georgia, married Sophronia Thompson (1845-1922).

The collection consists of papers of the Gurr family from 1864-1921. Contains primarily correspondence from Thomas J. Gurr to Sophronia Thompson (later Mrs. Thomas J. Gurr) from 1864-1866. Two of the letters were written while Thomas was serving in the 51st Georgia Infantry Regiment in Russellville, Tennessee and near Richmond, Virginia. Also includes a letter (1864) to Sophronia from her cousin, A. William Murray, of the 6th Georgia Infantry Regiment near Richmond, Virginia. The collection includes some materials relating to the genealogy of the Gurr family.
