Kea, Paul.
Scrapbook of University integration newspaper clippings, 1961.
63 loose pages

Paul Kea was assistant director of admissions when served with a subpoena ordering black students admitted to the University of Georgia. He kept a newspaper clipping file of the integration procedure and produced this scrapbook.

The collection consists of 63 loose pages of integration newspaper clippings from 1961 and one article from 1982 when Kea gave the materials to the library.

An archival copy is available in the Georgia Room.
This collection contains primarily the correspondence of the Keith family of Augusta and the correspondence of William Jones as executor of the estate of Marshall Keith. Included is correspondence dating from 1813 to 1910 - from Marshall Keith, his brother Peter Keith of Alexandria, Va., Isham Keith, also of Va., William Jones and others. Many letters involve debts owed to Mr. Jones as executor of the Keith estate and his guardianship of the Keith children.

The correspondence of Mr. Jones which relates to his gin-making business is placed separately in the collection. These letters date from 1833 to 1857.

Also included are statements and receipts of Mr. Jones' business transactions.

Box 7 of the collection contains various items including guardianship papers of Judith Keith (daughter of Marshall), letters from ex-slaves of Marshall Keith, freedman contracts with slaves, account books, etc.

Kell, John McIntosh, 1823-1900.
John McIntosh Kell family papers, 1784-1927.
2.5 linear ft.

Arranged in chronological order.

John McIntosh Kell (1823-1900), son of John and Margery Spalding Baillie Kell of Darien, Georgia, married Julia Blanche Munroe of Macon, Georgia. During the Civil War, Kell served as an officer in the Confederate Navy. After the war, he served as Georgia's Adjutant-General from 1886 until his death in 1900.

The collection consists of papers of the John McIntosh Kell family and the DeVotie and d'Antignac family from 1784-1927. The papers contain correspondence, diaries, and photographs. The correspondence is mainly to Blanche Munroe Kell from family and friends. Of particular interest are letters from Juliette E. Mitchell, a YMCA employee in Europe during World War I. Papers relating to the DeVotie family include correspondence from Howard DeVotie while at school in Penfield (Ga.) and some material relating to Rev. James Harvey DeVotie including correspondence and pamphlets pertaining to the Cabin Creek Baptist Association (Ga.). The d'Antignac material mainly concerns the Aryan Order. The collection also contains diaries (1900, 1909-1911) of Blanche Munroe Kell mostly discussing family news and social life, a muster roll of the 10th Georgia Infantry Regiment, and daguerreotypes and cartes-de-visites of the Kell family.

John McIntosh Kell was a major figure in the Confederate Navy, commanding the Savannah and executive officer on the Sumpter and Alabama. He was reported to be a blockade runner and raider during this period. He later became Adjutant General of Georgia. Many of his ancestors came to Georgia from Scotland and he was related to the McIntosh, Spalding, Baillie and Troop families, all prominent in Georgia history. He lived both in McIntosh County and Sunny Side, Spalding County, during his lifetime. The brief genealogy, on the following page, was done from sources in the papers and books in the Georgia Room to give perspective to the people involved in these papers but should not be accepted as accurate without further confirmation.

The Kell collection was purchased from a private vendor in March and May of 1985. The collection consists of 288 items of correspondence, postcards, diaries, farm account books, bill and photographs (daguerreotypes, ambrotypes and paper). The majority of the correspondence was to Blanche Munroe Kell, wife of John Kell, although some belongs to the related De Votie and d'Auvergne families, believed to be married daughters of the Kells. There is some correspondence to Blanche prior to her marriage to John, including a manuscript Valentine poem attributed to Sidney Lanier. There are two main concentrations of material: prior to and during the Civil War and the early 20th century, including material from Julia Mitchell, a YMCA staff member in Paris during WW I. Two diaries done by Blanche are from this latter period.

Unusual items include: the 1784 will of John Kell of Liberty County; a Franklin County jury list of 1836; Confederate roll of Co. K, 10th Ga. Rgt., Kershaw's Division; Mercer University commencement program, 1873; Lyrics of the Gray; proceedings, minutes and quarterlies from 26 various Baptist Associations, both black and white, probably collected by J. H. De Votie during his term as Corresponding Secretary of the State Mission Board.

Materials are arranged chronologically with earliest date to the rear of the box. They were archivally cleaned and some were encapsulated to aid in their preservation. Some large items were removed from the collection for storage in oversized cabinets.

Kell, John McIntosh, 1823-1900.
Letter to Blanche Munroe Kell, 1859 Sept. 22.
1 item.

John McIntosh Kell (1823-1900), son of John and Margery Spalding Baillie Kell of Darien, Georgia, married Julia Blanche Munroe of Macon, Georgia. During the Civil War, Kell served as an officer in the Confederate Navy. After the war, he served as Georgia's Adjutant-General from 1886 until his death in 1900.

The collection consists of a letter from John McIntosh Kell to his wife, Blanche Munroe Kell, from Warrington Naval Yard (Fla.) on September 22, 1859 regarding housing at Pensacola and his service on the steamer Fulton as a U.S. naval officer.

The collection consists of two letters from John McIntosh Kell while serving in the Confederate Navy on board the Savannah (ship) in 1861. The first letter, to his father-in-law N.C. Munroe dated March 22, 1861, discusses the actions of Commodore Josiah Tattnall and the removal of guns from Ft. Clinch (Fla.) to Ft. Pulaski (Ga.). The second letter, dated March 25, 1861, to his wife Blanche Munroe Kell discusses coastal Georgia social news.

1 microfilm roll; 35 mm.

John McIntosh Kell (1823-1900), son of John and Margery Spalding Baillie Kell of Darien, Georgia, married Julia Blanche Munroe of Macon, Georgia. During the Civil War, Kell served as an officer in the Confederate Navy. After the war, he served as Georgia's Adjutant-General from 1886 until his death in 1900.

The collection consists of a scrapbook kept by John McIntosh Kell and his wife Blanche Munroe Kell containing materials relating to the Confederate States of America and Kell's service on the Confederate Navy ships, the Alabama and the Sumter. Items include correspondence, printed material, newspaper clippings, engravings, photographs, Kell genealogy, and a list of casualties on the Alabama.

Also available on microfilm.

May 1986
The Kell Family Scrapbook continues the material in the manuscripts division concerning the John McIntosh Kell family of Sunny Side, Ga. The large scrapbook consisted of over 300 pages, mostly of post-Civil War news items related to the Confederacy and Captain Kell's involvement with the Confederate States Navy. He served on the Sumter and Alabama and the family was active and interested in related Confederate organizations and events plus the crews of the ships, especially Admiral Semmes. Mrs. Julia Blanche Munore Kell was interested in poetry and writing and cut many such items from the newspaper and magazines.

The scrapbook was given to Special Collections in June 1985 by Mr. Charles Peery of Charleston, S. C.

Due to its fragile condition, the book was microfilmed. There were many items loosely put into the book over regular pages and these were removed prior to microfilming and are housed in folders 1-7 by date. A few items were retained from the microfilmed materials and are found in folders 8-10 except for a news copy of Georgia's 1860 representatives in Congress which was microfilmed then photocopied & is in folder 4. An index for the microfilm & folders is located with the microfilm in folder 11. All items were archivally cleaned.

Ebenezer Kellogg diary, 1817-1818
1 v.

Ebenezer Kellogg (1789-1846), educator at Williams College, Williamstown, Massachusetts (1815-1846), born in Vernon, Connecticut.

The collection consists of the diary of Ebenezer Kellogg from November 1817 - March 1818, describing his journey from Williamstown, Massachusetts to Charleston, South Carolina, Savannah, Georgia, and towns along the Georgia coast. Most of the diary's entries pertain to Georgia and discuss the people and towns Kellogg visited; the area's geography and climate; southern religious life; plantations and farming practices, particularly cotton and rice; and slavery including how slaves lived, their treatment, field versus house servants, and religious instruction.

DESCRIPTION

George Lombard Kelly, M.D., 1890-1972, received his degrees from the University of Georgia in 1911, 1921, and 1924. He was a professor of anatomy and dean of the school of medicine. When the school of medicine was separated from the University of Georgia and became the Medical College of Georgia in 1950, Kelly became the first president. He was also involved in research and wrote articles for medical and scientific journals. He was the author of Sex Manual for Those Married or About To Be.

The papers in this collection consist of: a certificate of membership in The Cabinet Club, 1909; a certificate of membership in Delta Delta, 1910; and the text of an address Kelly delivered on the subject of the integration of medical care and medical education in Georgia. Although undated, this address was probably given in February 1949.

DESCRIPTION

ALS from Fanny Kemble to Charles [Sedgwick?] regarding Kemble’s rebuttal letter to the London Times for their unsigned review of Uncle Tom’s Cabin by Harriet Beecher Stowe charging that the book exaggerated the evils of slavery. Before sending her rebuttal letter, as she explains in this letter, she contacted John T. Delane, editor of the Times, to inquire if the review was his.

Frances Anne Kemble (Fanny), 1809 - 1893, was an English actress and author. She married Pierce Butler of Philadelphia, who inherited a Georgia plantation. Kemble had witnessed slavery first-hand while living on her husband’s plantation. She had previously refused to speak out publicly against slavery. Her letter was eventually published in 1863 as an appendix to her Journal of a Residence on a Georgian Plantation.

Kenan, Michael Johnstone.
Michael Johnstone Kenan notebook, 1872-1873.
1 v.

The collection consists of a notebook of Michael Johnstone Kenan of Sapelo Island, Georgia from 1872-1873. The notebook contains miscellaneous collections of observations, both literary and historical. Of particular interest are his recollections of Fort Wilkerson, Fort Hawkins, Elijah Clarke, Alexander McGillivray, Benjamin Hawkins, the death of William McIntosh, and relations with Creek Indians.

Ms 2634 (M) includes one typed letter signed by Charles W. Kent of the University of Virginia addressed to Mr. J.H.T. McPherson of the University of Georgia. In the letter Kent asks McPherson to research the Georgian writer Henry Rootes Jackson. The letterhead cites Kent as the literary editor of the "Library of Southern Literature", where he is included along with other editors such as Joel Chandler Harris and Edwin Anderson Alderman.
Corita Kent (a.k.a. Sister Corita) was a nun and head of the art department of Immaculate Heart College in Los Angeles. In the 1960’s and 1970’s she became well known for her silk screen paintings which often combined pop art with religious imagery. She was born in Fort Dodge, Iowa in 1918 and died in Boston, Massachusetts in 1986. This collection includes around 70 prints, many of which were commissioned by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. Most of the prints in Box 2 are based on quotations from famous people.

An inventory follows on the next three pages.

DESCRIPTION:

Grant of 400 acres in Franklin County to Benjamin Knox.

Signed by Gov. George Mathews. Plat included.

Dated: June 10, 1786.

Note: This grant is in extremely bad condition.
This two-page autograph letter signed by John Knox is dated "Augusta, Ga. December 11th 1843" and to his brother James N. Knox of the Chester District, South Carolina. In content the letter is a personal one discussing family matters - the death of their mother, John's lack of money, and James' difficulties with the family's land. Although John does not directly give his reasons for being in Augusta, he is a student, probably at the Medical College of Georgia.
John J. Knox was born on February 3, 1835 in Onandaga, New York. He enlisted in Co "D" of the Fifth Michigan Infantry in 1861 after having been expelled (for his Union sentiments) from the state of Mississippi where he had been a teacher. In 1862 he assumed command of his company and was gravely wounded at the Battle of Fair Oaks the same year. Unfit for further battle duty, he served as Provost Marshall at Plattsburgh, New York and Scranton, Pennsylvania. After the war he served in the Freedmen's Bureau in Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia. He later worked for the Department of Interior in Indian Territory. Knox died of complications from his war wound on April 19, 1877.

This collection consists of 2 boxes of material. Box 1 contains papers relating for the most part to Knox's career after the war, mainly when he worked for the Freedmen's Bureau in Mississippi and Georgia. Included are clippings from his personal scrapbook, affidavits, letters, manuscript speeches, military documents, and other material. The clippings include letters he wrote to the editor along with articles about his work and experiences in the Freedmen's Bureau and also the Dpt. of Interior. Most of the speeches, covering a wide array of topics, were probably written during the time he was a teacher in Mississippi prior to the war. Of particular interest are also 2 speeches he gave at the Knox Institute (a Freedmen's school named after him) in Athens, Georgia.

Box 2 contains material relating mainly to Knox's family. Included are letters (many addressed to Clarkston, Michigan), an account book, photographs, and other miscellany.

DESCRIPTION:

22 letters, cards or telegrams from Serge Koussevitsky, for many years conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, to Jan Sibelius, over a period of years from 1928-1938. Some of the letters are in German, some in English, most of them concern Sibelius' music. Some are about the symphonies and their reception in America, some contain greetings, birthday, New Year's and the like. These are friendly, admiring letters.

Dr. Tawastetjerna has written a recent biography of Sibelius which is to be translated into English soon.

See also: Olin Downes Papers* for additional Koussevitsky material.

*Restricted Manuscript Collection. Qualified scholars wishing to see the Collection must obtain permission from Mrs. Jean Reti-Forbes.
DESCRIPTION

Undated letter from Eddie (Koya) to Fred (Grady) while he served in World War II. The letter describes a battle at sea: "The first day out at sea the Japs started to give us hell. They started... by suicide diving at our convoy from then on we were attacked for 72 hours... At night they were laying mines... I got the scare of my life a Jap plane started to dive at our ship but our gunners took care of him... they shot his tail off... all you could see was parts of plane coming down... I feel... a lot safer in a fox hole."

A cartoon done by Mr. de la Vega concerning the Georgia—Georgia Tech Football Game. Caption reads "Georgia stepped so hard on the yellow jacket's back that the whole thing went out." Original colored ink drawing.
DESCRIPTION:

Music manuscripts by Czech composer Jaroslav Kricka, as follows:

1. Song - Ukolébavka. 1925

2. "  "  , another manuscript copy of above.

Ku Klux Klan collection. [ca. 1865-1921].
8 items.

Arranged in chronological order.

Ku Klux Klan (KKK), a secret society organized in 1866 by Nathan Bedford Forest and other Confederate veterans to intimidate newly freed African Americans. Disbanded in 1869, the KKK re-emerged in 1915 under the leadership of William J. Simmons.

The collection consists of papers relating to the Ku Klux Klan from ca. 1865-1921. The early materials consist of handwritten warnings promising death to radicals: that radicals involved in Governor Bullocks politics will not survive in Washington County, Georgia; that "dead men tell no tales"; while one, decorated with coffins, daggers and rifles, mentions the "ghosts of the martyred dead" avenging their death on the living. Also includes a KKK application form (ca. 1921) asking for the person's occupation, religious affiliation, politics, and beliefs in white supremacy and "pure americanism" and a 1921 article from Leslie's Weekly discussing the re-emergence of the KKK.

Ku Klux Klan (1915- ). Athens Klan #5 (Athens, Ga.)
Athens Klan #5 records, 1921-1930.
2.5 linear ft.

Arranged by record type.

Ku Klux Klan (1915- ), secret society founded in Georgia by William J. Simmons in 1915 to defend "Americanism."

The collection consists of records of the Athens (Ga.) Klan #5 of the Ku Klux Klan (KKK) from 1921-1930. The records include correspondence, newsletters, minutes, quarterly reports, membership cards, dues records, recommendation cards, receipts, and forms for robe requisitions relating to the activities of the Athens KKK #5. The correspondence (1921-1929) contains letters to the Klan asking for financial assistance, thank yous for assistance rendered, as well as official correspondence, some from national KKK headquarters on membership standings, meetings, induction ceremonies, and recruitment. The correspondence also discusses Georgia politics, especially the 1926 gubernatorial election. The minutes (1925-1926) document Klan meetings and contain information on dues paid, elections, social events or official ceremonies, help for the needy, and investigations of new or current members.

DESCRIPTION

Included in this collection are clippings on cotton by Annie Laurie Kurtz. There are a few copies of articles on cotton from 1880's newspapers.

Also enclosed is the ground-pit-and roof plan for an ante-bellum cotton press drawn by Wilbur G. Kurtz, 22 April 1918.
Ms 1510

Wilbur G. Kurtz photographs, 1938-1939.

446 items.

Arranged in numerical order.

Wilbur George Kurtz (1882-1967), historical and technical advisor for the motion picture GONE WITH THE WIND.

The collection consists of photographs and negatives taken by Wilbur G. Kurtz during the filming of the motion picture, GONE WITH THE WIND, in Atlanta (Ga.) from 1938-1939. Primarily street, rural, or train depot scenes, the collection also contains photographs of Vivien Leigh, Clark Gable, and other actresses and actors.
