Moina Belle Michael, 1869 - 1944.
Papers, 1918 - 1940.

1 linear foot.
Arranged chronologically.

Moina Michael, educator & humanitarian, b 15 Aug 1869, Walton Co (Ga.), d 10 May 1944, Clarke County (Ga.), the daughter of John Marion & Alice Sherwood Wise Michael. She taught school, served with the YWCA in Rome during WW I and again at Columbia University, the training headquarters for overseas YWCA war workers. She originated the idea of selling poppies to aid in the care and comfort of disabled soldiers and their families and her book The Miracle Flower traces the movement here and abroad.

The collection consists of correspondence, booklets, news clippings, regarding the establishment of the poppy as a memorial flower. Some correspondents include Mary B. Poppenheim, Mde. E. Guerin of the American & French Child's League, American Legion, Disable American Veterans, and Charles M. Gallienne, Jr. Also included is a page of the 1948 Moina Michael stamp and a typescript of The Miracle Flower.

Arthur Middleton, distinguished young musician (now playing first seat trombone with the Vienna Symphony Orchestra), is a native of Perry, Georgia and attended the University of Georgia. This collection consists of juvenilia—a scrapbook, correspondence, photographs, and a group of annotated musical compositions. It is an interesting lot because of the insight given into the formative years of this twentieth century musician.
DESCRIPTION

Included in this collection are miscellaneous fragmentary land grants from the early federal period of Georgia. All three still have the large wax state seals attached. The warrants are all issued to Robert Middleton and retain the plats, each for separate 1000 acre tracts in Washington County and all surveyed in July of 1790. Two tracts are designated as "Indigo land" while all three bear the note "Pine land."

PRELIMINARY DESCRIPTION

SUBSEQUENT HISTORY
DESCRIPTION

This collection contains correspondence, notes, writings, genealogical information, printed material, newspaper and magazine clippings, accounts, receipts, cancelled checks, and a wide range of miscellaneous and family memorabilia relating to the Miller and Morris families. Of the 19,994 items in the collection, 9,900 are cancelled checks.

The collection is in three parts, the first and by far the largest being the Sylvanus Morris Division. Dr. Morris was an 1877 graduate of the Lumpkin Law School, and later became Dean of that same school from 1900 to 1927. His was a prominent Athens family and a great deal of incidental information about Old Athens can be gleaned from his papers.

The correspondence in this section is principally between Dr. Morris and his wife Annie Lewis Minor Morris. There are also a few Civil War letters, including a photostat of one written by Robert E. Lee a few months after the war. It is addressed to Mrs. Morris' grandfather, Robert Lewis, and gives General Lee's views about the question of leaving the country, as many prominent Southerners did at that time.

Several boxes of legal papers and notes relate to Dr. Morris' law practice. There are also a large number of cancelled checks, receipts, and other personal accounts.

The second section of the collection contains genealogical information, primarily pertaining to the Morris, Minor, and Lewis families, who have an involved and interrelated ancestry. One box of memorabilia and two boxes of photographs are in this section also.

Of particular note is the plantation book of Reverend William Douglas of Virginia. Compiled during the 1780's it gives household and plantation accounts, and lists of slaves. Recipes, remedies, marriages, births, deaths, and illnesses are also recorded in detail.

Many of Dr. Morris’ lecture notes have survived, along with numerous historical and religious manuscripts, a great many of them in outline form.

The third section contains material relating to Dr. Morris’ granddaughter, Anne Miller. Miss Miller graduated from the University of Georgia and received a Master of Fine Arts Degree from New York University. She studied medieval architecture in France for two years (1956 - 1957) in preparation for her Master's thesis.

A point of interest in this division is the large collection of postcards, both American (mostly Virginia and Georgia) and European. There are also two boxes of travel brochures from Miss Miller’s sojourn in Europe.

Miss Miller, like her grandfather, was a prolific writer, and several of her manuscripts are included here. Her writings differed from Dr. Morris’ in that they are mostly fictional stories. Her notes and a copy of her thesis are also among her writings.

Most of the correspondence is between Miss Miller and her mother Mary Douglas Morris Miller, and dates from 1947-1961. A few of the letters date from the time of her parents marriage in 1921.

The remainder of the collection is comprised of Miss Miller’s artwork, primarily paintings and sketches. Three of her large paintings are stored separately in the Special Collections Division.

One large box of family objects, (baby shoes, old battle paraphernalia, fans, easels, etc.) is also available.

Miller and Worsham (Hopewell, Ga.)
Miller and Worsham account book, 1846-1848.
2 v.

Arranged in chronological order.

Miller and Worsham, general merchandise store, operated by James P. Miller and David Worsham, located in Hopewell, Upson County, Georgia.

The collection consists of account books of Miller and Worsham, for their general store in Hopewell, Georgia, from August, 1846 - December, 1847, with a few entries in 1848. Entries include name of customer, itemized list of purchases, and price. Purchases include a variety of general merchandise. The first volume includes additional entries pertaining to charges for postage of newspapers and magazines. The second volume includes a list of women, who's husbands or sons serve or served "in the army" and perhaps the number of children, for distribution of salt shares.

Forms part of: Georgia mercantile records.

Relating to Athens and the University of Georgia, this collection focuses upon two generations of the Mitchell family in the nineteenth century, centering on University graduates William Letcher Mitchell '25 and Henry Bass Mitchell '75. William L. Mitchell (1805-1882) was a native Georgian and lived most of his life in Athens. He married first Sarah C. Neisler and second L.L. Bass. He was a lawyer, member of the state legislature, superintendent of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, 33rd degree Mason, and professor of law at the University of Georgia. He also served as trustee and secretary and treasurer of the university. His son Henry Bass Mitchell was born in 1855 and received his A.B. from the university at the age of 20. Married to Hattie G. Hart, he became a farmer and landowner, but he was also an exceptionally talented artist and inventor as portions of this collection will attest.

A miscellaneous collection, included in it are several masonic documents of William L. Mitchell's, several letters of recommendation for William L. Mitchell including ones by Moses Waddel and Henry Jackson, class notebooks and calligraphic exercises of Henry B. Mitchell, sketches, poetry, and a variety of family-related manuscript materials.

There are also two small photograph albums of family members (most unidentified) with one containing several carte-de-visites of Confederate military leaders. In addition there is an unidentified tintype of a black woman in striking oriental attire.

Donald B. Mitchell, Sergeant with the Ambulance Service of the United States Army Medical Reserve Corps, served with the French Fifth Division during World War I in France, Belgium, and Germany. Born in New Haven, Connecticut resided in Macon, Georgia after the war.

The collection consists of papers of Donald G. Mitchell from 1917-1919. The papers include correspondence, photographs of war destruction in Belgium, a printed history of the U.S. Army Ambulance Service No. 539, and loose journal pages. The materials document Mitchell's ambulance service in France, Belgium, and Germany during World War I. The journal (1917-1918) mainly details his decision to join the medical corps, camp life in Allentown (Pa.), and the voyage to Europe. The correspondence, written to Mitchell's mother, contains descriptions of France, Belgium, and Germany including the destruction of France and Belgium, ambulance runs to the front, and the armistice.

Margaret "Peggy" Mitchell Marsh (1900-1949), author of GONE WITH THE WIND, married John R. Marsh in 1925, resided in Atlanta, Georgia.

The collection consists of papers of Margaret Mitchell and the Mitchell family from 1852-1975. The papers include correspondence, clippings, business papers, research materials, desk calendars (1939-1949), photographs of Mitchell and the Mitchell family, and legal materials. The bulk of the collection (1936-1949) concerns the publication of GONE WITH THE WIND (GWTW), the effect of its publication, and the production of the motion picture by Selznick International Pictures. Much of the correspondence consists of letters to Mitchell from the public and her responses (typed carbon copies) but also included is correspondence from Erskine Caldwell, Willie Snow Ethridge, William Faulkner, Medora Perkerson, Eudora Welty, and other literary figures of the 1930s and the 1940s. The clippings (1936-1975) contain extracts from newspapers throughout the United States concerning GWTW, Mitchell, and reviews of the book and motion picture. The business and legal papers concern copyright infringement of GWTW, contracts for foreign editions, commercial tie-ups, royalties, and estate investments.

The papers also include correspondence relating to the Mitchell and Stephens families from 1851-1910. Includes letters written by John Stephens to his sister Mary and to Annie Fitzgerald while he served with the Commissary General in Milledgeville and Atlanta, Georgia from 1861-1863, discussing family news, problems finding supplies and equipment, prices, and inflation. Also includes materials relating to Stephen's daughter Belle (1885-1910) who married Eugene M. Mitchell, father of Margaret Mitchell.

Mitchell, Robert Goodwin, 1843-1926.
Robert Goodwin Mitchell papers, 1833-1885 (bulk 1861-1864).
1 linear ft.

Arranged in chronological order.

Robert Goodwin Mitchell (1843-1926) soldier with Company B of the 29th Georgia Infantry Regiment during the Civil War, married Nettie (Amaretta) Fondren (1845-1929) in 1864 and resided in Thomasville, Georgia.

The collection consists of papers of Robert Goodwin Mitchell from 1833-1885. The bulk of the collection contains correspondence (1861-1864) between Mitchell and Nettie Fondren during his service with the 29th Georgia Infantry Regiment during the Civil War. Mitchell served mainly in Georgia and along the coast. His letters describe the evacuation of Savannah (Ga.), the battle of Chickamauga (Ga.), the siege of Chattanooga (Tenn.), and the Atlanta Campaign. Nettie's letters, many written from the Lucy Cobb Institute (Athens, Ga.), describe life during the Civil War and news of family and friends. The collection also contains correspondence from other family members or friends, photographs, and a scrapbook containing clippings pertaining to the lives of Robert and Nettie after the war.

Ms 2345

Arranged in chronological order.

William Letcher Mitchell (1805-1882), lawyer, educator, and trustee at the University of Georgia, resided in Athens, Georgia.

The collection consists of papers of William Letcher Mitchell and the Mitchell family of Athens, Georgia from 1819-1901. The papers mainly contain correspondence, but also include reports (1875-1880) from the University of Georgia (UGA). The correspondence contains information on Mitchell's law practice; his tenure on the Board of Trustees at UGA; Georgia politics; as well as his involvement with the Athens Presbyterian Church, the UGA University High School (Athens, Georgia), and the Athens division of the Scottish Rite Masonic order. Correspondents include Herschel V. Johnson, Charles Colcock Jones, Andrew A. Lipscomb, John Letcher, Henry H. Tucker, and Boykin Wright. After Mitchell's death in 1882, the correspondence is addressed to Frances L. Mitchell.

Forms part of: E. Merton Coulter manuscript collection II.

Mitchell/Marsh family papers, 1918-1995 (bulk 1925-1949)
2 linear ft.

Arranged by record type

Margaret “Peggy” Mitchell Marsh (1900-1949) author of Gone With The Wind married John R. Marsh (1895-1952) in 1925, resided in Atlanta, Georgia.

The collection consists of the papers of Margaret Mitchell, John Marsh and the Marsh family from 1918-1995.

The papers include correspondence, writings, printed material and photographs. Most of the correspondence is from John Marsh and Margaret Mitchell to John’s mother and sister Frances. The letters discuss health problems, family news, Gone With The Wind book and movie, and the complications sudden fame brought to their lives. There are also several letters from John Marsh to his family concerning his wife’s death.

Collection is restricted. Please contact repository for terms governing use of this collection.

John Morel Agreement, Ms 2619 (M), consists of one document of agreement between John Morel, Robert Watts, and Edward Telfair concerning the cutting and delivery of "a full and sufficient quantity of Live Oak... intended for building a ship" ...to "the Island of Ossabaw". The agreement is signed by George Walton who, in 1774, was engaged in a prosperous law practice in Savannah, Georgia. Later Walton was a signer of the Declaration of Independence and a Georgian governor.

DESCRIPTION

This collection consists of the family tree of John Murrell (born in Bladen Co., N.C., 1784) and Margaret Sasser. There is a synopsis sheet which goes back four additional generations.

(located in oversize drawers)
Murrell family.
Murrell family papers, 1830-1959.
9 linear ft.

Arranged by record type.

George Washington Harlan Murrell (b. 1806), merchant, emigrated to Walton County, Georgia where he married Judith Amanda Melvina Elizabeth Stone, daughter of Rene and Sidney Briscoe Stone. They had nine children, the eighth of which was George Thomas Murrell (1848-1909). George T. married Leila Wade Morton.

The collection consists of papers of the Murrell family of Oxford (Newton County, Ga.) and Winterville (Clarke County, Ga.) from 1830-1959. The papers include correspondence, business papers, receipts, and account books. The correspondence consists of seven Civil War era letters (1863-1865) to and from George Washington Harlan Murrell, but the majority consists of letters to Ermine and Elizabeth Murrell in Winterville (Ga.) from family and friends. The business papers contain receipts and indentures pertaining mostly to George Washington Harlan Murrell and George T. Murrell. The collection also contains reminiscences of George T. Murrell regarding his imprisonment at Point Lookout Prison (Md.) during the Civil War, receipts (1830-1950), individual photographs of the Emory University graduating class of 1900, and numerous account books relating to various businesses owned by the Murrell family in Walton and Newton Counties.

Murrell family.
Murrell family papers, 1832-1977.
13 linear ft.

Arranged by record type.

George Washington Harlan Murrell (b. 1806), merchant, emigrated to Walton County, Georgia where he married Judith Amanda Melvina Elizabeth Stone, daughter of Rene and Sidney Briscoe Stone. They had nine children, the eighth of which was George Thomas Murrell (1848-1909). George T. married Leila Wade Morton.

The collection consists of papers of the Murrell family of Oxford (Newton County, Ga.) and Winterville (Clarke County, Ga.) from 1832-1977. The papers include correspondence, business records, land records, photographs, and printed material. The correspondence (1840-1977) consists of letters between family members including George Washington Harlan Murrell, J.H. Murrell (in Minden, La.), Joseph W. Murrell, Ermine Murrell, Elizabeth Murrell, and George T. and Leila Murrell. The business papers contain indentures, receipts, bills, and invoices of George Washington Harlan Murrell and George T. Murrell business ventures in Walton and Newton counties. The collection also contains reminiscences (mainly photocopies) of George T. Murrell describing his imprisonment at Point Lookout Prison during the Civil War, an 1892 diary of George T. Murrell mainly describing the death of his daughter Jeannie and his involvement in the People's Party (Populist Party), and numerous account books dealing with the Murrell's various business interests.
